Dear Sir or Madam,

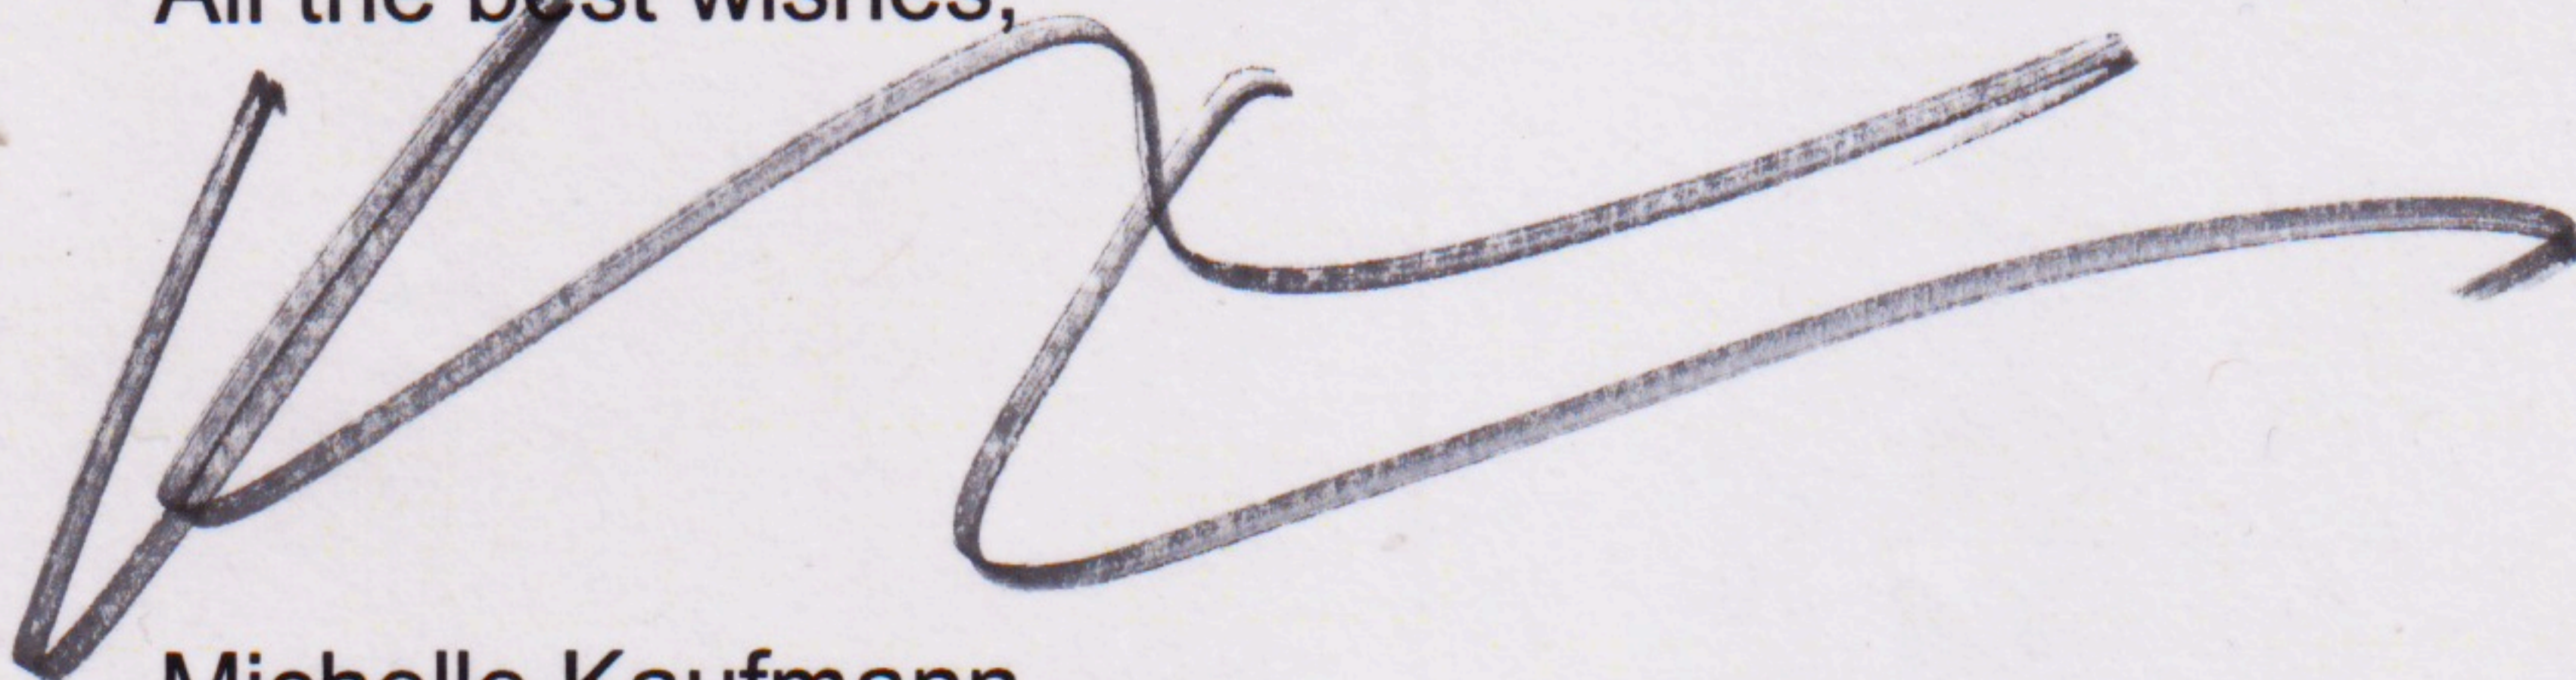

I highly recommend Megan Pinkerton for the outstanding work she did while interning in our office. In addition to being a hard, diligent worker, Megan impressed us with the way she took initiative and was never shy about tackling the tasks with which she helped us. She approached her work with enthusiasm, determination, and, perhaps most importantly from a design perspective, excellent taste.

Megan designed and implemented our office's ecoSalon, her challenge being to create a space that would at once showcase an eclectic collection of eco-friendly furniture and also be highly functional, serving the day-to-day needs of our employees while also being suitable for the large scale events we occasionally hold in our office during the evening. She rose to that challenge superbly, making layout, material, and lighting decisions that have left us with a beautiful, well-performing space that we're proud to show off. At the same time, she clearly demonstrated her passion for green design, which is what drew Megan to our firm in the first place since that is the area in which our firm specializes.

In addition, Megan organized our firm's extensive collection of materials samples and literature, designing and implementing a materials library for our office that has made all our lives a whole lot easier. In doing so, she showed impressive attention to detail as well as great thoughtfulness.

Finally, I would like to add that Megan is very professional, friendly, and generally just a pleasure to work with. We consider ourselves very lucky to have had her. I know that any firm with the good fortune to get Megan as a team member in the future will feel the same.

All the best wishes,
